FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Thames Centre Excited for the New Inter-Community Transit Route Connecting Dorchester, London, and St. Thomas

THAMES CENTRE - March 14, 2024 – Thames Centre is excited to announce the upcoming launch of a new transit route connecting Dorchester, London, and St. Thomas, which will start operating next month.

Operated by Voyago, this new route will provide commuters with four round trips daily, enhancing transportation options from Monday to Saturday. The route will originate from the FlightExec Centre, stopping in London and St. Thomas before reaching the Transit Hub. A one-way trip on the Thames Centre Connect route will cost $5, with children under 6, support persons, and veterans riding for free. The route prioritizes inclusivity by offering fully accessible transportation for all passengers. The bus will have 16 seats, including 2 wheelchair-accessible spots, and will be equipped with a wheelchair lift.

Thames Centre invites the public to join in celebrating the launch of this new route on Monday, April 8, 2024.

Thames Centre Mayor McMillan expressed her excitement stating, "This announcement is great news for Thames Centre residents. The addition of another route connecting Dorchester, London, and St. Thomas provides more transportation options for our community. With the area growing and the workforce expanding, this service offers convenient travel to various places of employment and other destinations."

Mayor McMillan further highlighted the improved schedule, mentioning, "The service will now include two early morning runs and two in the afternoon, making it more convenient for commuters. At $5 per trip, it's also an affordable option."
